It is imperative to exercise caution moving forward, as this narrative appears to have stirred up intense emotions among a broad spectrum of individuals who have endured the aftermath of what has been referred to as the "long terror."

This term was coined by a legal representative of the New Tulsa Government in their plea to further restrict the dissemination of this particular account, while simultaneously advocating for the incarceration of the Starving Artist formerly known as Emil as a traitor to the establishment, rather than to the people.

The backdrop against which this story unfolds is one marked by the catastrophic events of Ahriman's Great Social Reset, which plunged society into chaos and ultimately led to a brutal civil conflict. Ahriman and his cohorts from the WEF were eventually ousted from power and banished from the planet, thanks in large part to the intervention of the Republic of Texas and their renowned National Guard.

Numerous individuals may raise doubts regarding the extent to which the Jedi Refugees, openly embraced by Ahriman for shelter as they escaped ruthless bounty hunters dispatched by the Empire to capture them dead or alive - with a clear preference for the latter, were actually accountable for the heinous acts committed by the Ahriman Government against the ordinary citizens of what was formerly known as the United States.

Contrary to popular belief, a growing number of historians are now presenting a different perspective on events such as the Massacre of Dearborn.

They argue that the responsibility for these tragic incidents lies more directly with renegade factions within the Antifa Militia.

In particular, they highlight the heinous crimes committed against the CIS Humanity by the notorious Llyod Auston Bio-Gender Brigade.

This group, known for their radical actions, shocked the world by unleashing nuclear devastation upon Salt Lake City.

Astonishingly, they had managed to acquire these destructive weapons from abandoned silos in Nebraska, further adding to the gravity of their actions.

Conversely, there are individuals who assert that we are fueling the frenzy of anti-Jedi prejudice and discrimination that has taken hold of a significant portion of the population with our publication, all the while neglecting the hardships endured by the Jedi Refuges during the Ahriman Years. These difficult times led to the permanent incapacitation of numerous frontline Jedi Commanders who were coerced into using mind control on CIS Humans. There may be some individuals who are not familiar with the current class-action lawsuits filed by the Jedi Union against the WEF Goonies, as well as the governments that have taken over from the WEF Goonies. Additionally, there are individual lawsuits being brought forth in the Empire Superior Court for the Outer Moons of Saturn District against prominent figures within Ahriman's inner circle. These lawsuits allege that the government and its agents were fully aware of the risks of irreversible brain damage that could occur when Jedi Mind Control techniques were employed on CIS Humans, with the most severe damage resulting from the common practice of Vulcan Mind Melt. The Jedi agents argue that it was publications like this one that caused Ahriman to rule against them, stating that they were independent contractors rather than regular employees. This ruling was based on their immigration status, which meant they were not eligible for long-term health benefits and disability benefits, unlike the rebellious Antifa Militia who received them without any hesitation.

It seems quite absurd that there are complaints being made without any valid reason, especially considering that none of the complainers have even seen the content (or lack thereof) of the upcoming publication. WWWG's legal representative, Miss Kimmie, has taken action by submitting a brief to clarify that WWWG has maintained a stance of Jedi Neutrality ever since their arrival and the founding of the planet as a Sanctuary Planet.

With a reputation for being no stranger to conflict, confusion, and even direct insurrection, Emil has made headlines for his alleged involvement in the GOF Zombie Samples Uprising in Ward Five. However, he has recently come forward to clarify that this is all just a misunderstanding.

According to Emil, his intentions were simply to provide a Hobo Tour Travel Advisory regarding the opening of a memorial chapel.

This chapel is dedicated to the brave Jedis who lost their lives during the tumultuous Ahriman War Years.

Despite the controversy surrounding him, Emil insists that his actions were purely in the interest of honoring these fallen heroes.

will undoubtedly gain a deeper understanding and appreciation for the profound losses experienced by the Jedi Refuge Community during the Ahriman Era.

While some may draw comparisons to the controversial celebration of Hitler's Wafen SS, it is important to recognize that this exploration serves a different purpose. Rather than celebrating, it aims to shed light on the tragic consequences of lost futures,
